

Testimonials

I was one of the first to join Affinity Business Club as I am passionate about working and servicing local businesses and building long term close relationships as well as contributing to the local community.

Neil has done an excellent job in launching the Club and after only 4 weeks of becoming a member i have already had orders that more than cover the membership fee.

I have also been in contact with other members that can provide a local service that will benefit my company. Alan Grimes, Director, Fastsigns"Hey Neil, I can hardly believe that I have only been a member of the Affinity Business Club for a few weeks and even before your launch event on the 23rd of July I have recouped half my membership fee already.

Thank you for introducing me to Alan Grimes from Fast Signs and thanks to him for a fabulous service, free design expertise and quick turnaround putting together my shiny new banner in time for the 23rd.

I am reaping the benefit of your vision of connecting local business people and wish you continued success with the Affinity Business Club." Peter Moorhead, Director, Celebrate Health & Fitness AYME and Affinity - The Difference A Network Can Make..."When I first met Neil I felt immediately that here was someone who was going to have an impact on the Association of Young People with ME (AYME pronounced aim). Since that day over two years ago Neil has become an advisor, friend, advocate and champion of the charity. If we need to know how to contact someone or find a service in the area we go to Neil and he never lets us down. A great example of the work he has undertaken is his promotion of our 2006 Charity Dinner. The first event for AYME of this kind in Milton Keynes and it was a real success. We sold out with a high percentage of those attending promising to support future initiatives. AYME wishes Neil all the best with his new venture. Anyone working with him will quickly see how effective he can be."AYME and Affinity – a real working partnership.Mary-Jane Willows, Chief Executive"Having set up an office in Milton Keynes it soon became apparent that I needed to build up the brand of my company within the local business community.

I was aware that the networking scene was very strong in MK but was unsure and in truth un-enthusiastic about accessing it. I read Neil’s article and it seemed too good to be true, someone to steer me through the process, introduce me to the ‘scene’ and importantly the key decision makers in my target audiences.

In truth it has been better than I could have hoped, Neil has paid for himself, to coin a phrase he does what it says on the tin and the best testimonial I can give is that I had no hesitation in renewing our contract."

Damon Blakey, Partner,
The Bollington Group

"Thanks for your time yesterday; I have to say that I felt really motivated to get out there after my meeting with you."

Andy Setterfield, Director,
Profile Resourcing Limited

"Neil’s reputation in Milton Keynes is something that takes years to achieve so I was delighted to know I could take advantage of it without all the hard work! It’s not just that Neil knows a lot of people in the business community – he makes a point of getting to know them and their business and only introduces like minded, reliable people to each other.

Through Neil’s connections I have secured major business and because of his enthusiasm and understanding of what I do, he did a big part of the selling for me too. Thanks Neil – your service is invaluable and I will have no hesitation in recommending you to others."

Kia Bird – Director
Big Bird Marketing